

Possible questions to consider when presenting a case....

- 1. What do you want to share about the child?
 - a. Who is this child? Description
 - b. Age at referral, reason for referral, current age, developmental profile
 - c. Strengths, challenges, interests of the child
 - d. How and when did you begin to work with the child/family?

- 2. What about the people in the life of the child?
 - a. Who is in the home with this child?
 - b. Who has primary caretaking responsibilities? What caregiving capacities have you observed?
 - c. What strengths have you noticed with the caregiver? Impressions?
 - d. Who else is in the family home, or has a role in the life of the child?
 - e. How do the caregivers relate to the baby? Do they seem attentive, responsive?

- 3. How does language/culture impact your relationships with family members and caregivers?
 - a. Are there language barriers between you and primary caregivers?
 - b. Do you and/or the caregivers hold contrasting views about parenting decisions such as discipline, screen time, soothing, feeding, accepting help from outside resources?
 - c. Do you and/or the caregivers hold contrasting views about child behavior such as crying, sleeping, eating, misbehaving or communicating?

- 4. What has happened in the life of the child and family?
 - a. Before birth? During or after birth?
 - b. Any separations/losses, medical problems, family mental health issues, abandonment, parental absences, etc.
 - c. Current family circumstances?
 - d. Protective factors/access to support/worries/risks/concerns

- 5. What about you?
 - a. How does it feel to be with this family?
 - b. What is/are your major struggles/successes?
 - c. What have you tried? What has worked?
 - d. What strengths do you bring to this family?
 - e. What can we help you with?